Be wary of where pops lie on the card for the Team Match. You may concede a hole in the individual match, but be sure to clarify that the individual must putt out for the Team Match. As an example, you shoot an 8 on Hole 10. Your opponent is on the green in three, but has a twelve footer for par and has a pop on the hole in the Team Scoring. Even though he has clearly beat you individually, you would force him to putt out. If he misses and makes bogey, you may still tie or win the hole from a Team perspective.
